MINERS ARE KILLED BY THE CAVE-IN

SENT TO THEIR DEATH WHILE UNDERGROUND.

Effort to Save the Twin Shaft Min Results in a Terrible Disaster—Work of Rescue Commenced—List of the Imprisoned Men—Excitement Prevails.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 29.—One hundred miners were caught Sunday morning under a fall of rock in the Twin Shaft mine at Pittston, nine miles north of here.

It is believed that all perished instantly, but there is a possibility that some are imprisoned in the drift between two cave-ins. In that case they are confined in a small and almost airtight space, so that even the powerful fans cannot supply air enough to sustain life until the searchers can cut through the walls of debris.

If it prove that the men are dead sixty-three women will be left widows and 200 children be fatherless.

This is the most terrible mine accident which has occurred in the anthracite region since the great disaster at Avondale, this county, in 1869, in which 120 lives were lost.

The names of the English-speaking miners in the drift at the time of the fall follow: M. J. Langan, inside superintendent; L. J. Lycott, inside foreman; Alexander McCormick, fire boss; Robert Haston, machinist; Thomas Murphy, driver boss; Michael Costello, J. H. Kelley, Michael Gaudhan, John Hart, James Dailey, Michael Connell, Daniel Ward, Frank Kehoe, James Cleary, Edward Buckley, John Casey, Edward Rogers, James Kehoe, James McDonald, Edward Delaney, Cornelius McGuire, James Golden, M. O'Brien, Michael Hughes, Edward Kilday, James Burke, Patrick Ruane, Thomas Tenpenny, Michael R. Gaffney, Thomas Doing, Anthony Kane, J. W. Murphy, Owen Lee, Anthony Gordon, James Wall, ——Wall, his son; Dominick O'Malley, Peter Martin, Michael Ford, Timothy Durbrick, Thomas Dempsey, Thomas Carlin, Patrick Gibbons, John O'Boyle, Peter Joyce, Anthony Gordon, John Gill, John Gaffney, Daneil Gavin, P. S. Kelly, 35 years old; —— Hoistrich, Joseph Zurindo, Tony Tollaski, Peter Savoskiz, Andrew Slovinski, Simon Maskovitz, John Cadanizky.

Aside from these there are between fifty and sixty Huns and Poles whose names cannot now be ascertained.

The twin shaft operated by the Newton Coal company, the principal stockholders of which live in Philadelphia, is an old mine, but the output has always been large. Some two weeks ago it was noticed that the mine was "squeezing"—that is to say, the surface was pressing hard on the props and pillars. Steps were at once taken to stop it. Heavy timbers were put in and every precaution was taken to prevent a cave-in.

Friday it was thought that the "squeeze" had been arrested, but Saturday it began to "work" again. The principal trouble was in the red ash or lower vein of coal 1,500 feet from the shaft. There were two heavy falls on Saturday afternoon and it was thought dangerous to enter that part of the mine.

At 8 o'clock in the evening Inside Superintendent Langan concluded that something would have to be done and done quickly if it was hoped to save the inside workings from destruction. Accordingly he issued orders to get a party of the most expert miners together to make an effort to prevent further damage to the mine. Calls were sent out and at 9 o'clock that night about 100 men had gone down the mine.

Nearly all of them knew the great risk they were running, but they argued thus: "The superintendent and foreman are with us; if they do not hesitate to go in, why should we?"

The men worked hard and faithfully until a little after 8 o'clock, when, probably without warning, the roof on the 1,000-foot slope where the men were at work fell in.

The concussion was so great that it was felt for a distance of four miles. The foundations of nearly every house in Pittston were shaken, and the citizens first thought a violent earthquake had taken place.

Immediately after the accident occurred there was a call for volunteers. Two hundred men responded at once, and, despite the great dangers sure to be encountered, entered upon the work of rescue. The men were divided into relief gangs of forty each, for the work is very tedious, as the roof has to be propped as fast as the men work their way through the debris.

The danger from fire and choke damps is incredibly great, as the Twin shaft is known to be subject to these gases except under favorable conditions of ventilation. Any minute may thrust the rescuers into a pocket of firedamp and result in a terrible explosion.

The greatest excitement prevailed about the mouth of the shaft all day. The relatives of the imprisoned men gathered in large numbers and their grief was pitiable. "Oh, my dear husband." "Oh, my poor papa," were the cries of anguish heard. Many of the women swooned and had to be carried away. Some knelt on the wet ground and prayed that their loved ones might be brought out alive.

At last the excitement became so great that a special police force was sworn in to keep the crowd back.

At 12:25 o'clock there was another fall in the slope. It drove the rescuers back. The twenty feet of ground they had gained since 8 o'clock was thereby lost.

MONEY OR TARIFF?

Republican Conference at Indianapolis to Plan for the Campaign.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 29.—The republican conference to be held in this city Wednesday will decide whether the state committee shall attempt to make the tariff question the leading issue in the campaign or whether the money question shall be put first. Chairman Gowdy will recommend that Mark Hanna's advice be taken and the speakers instructed to lead off with the tariff. It seems probable that the members of the state committee, the executive and the advisory committees and the candidates, all of whom have been invited to meet the chairman, will insist that the money question be met fairly and squarely.

The democrats, after having made a free silver platform, have announced that they propose to battle for the state with the money question as the chief issue, and many of the most influential republicans believe the state will go to the democrats if it is decided by the republicans to shun the money issue. The reports from over the state indicate that there are many thousand republicans who lean toward free silver, but Chairman Gowdy believes these men, who are generally protectionists, will stay with the party if they are shown that protection will bring prosperity once more. The conference, the party leaders say, must decide to begin the campaign early. It is proposed to make it a speaking campaign, and arrangements will be made for schoolhouse meetings throughout the state.

SHOT THE GIRL HE LOVED.

James Mahoney Fires Three Shots Into Mary Kane Near Aurelia, Iowa.

Aurelia, Iowa, June 29.—One of the most shocking shooting affairs ever known in Cherokee county took place at the farm-house of Mrs. Elizabeth Mahoney, seven miles south of this pace, Sunday morning. Miss Mary Kane has been residing with the Mahoneys for about a year, and James Mahoney, a son of the old lady, has for some time been desperately in love with the girl, who refused to accept his attentions. Sunday he became enraged and fired three shots at the girl from a 38-caliber revolver, each of which took effect. The first entered the forehead, felling her to the floor, and the next two were fired as she lay prostrate, one taking effect in the back of the neck and the third in the right forearm.

The young woman is conscious, but it is thought the she cannot recover. Sheriff Wheeler of Cherokee arrested Mahoney and lodged him in jail at that place.

Socialist Trade and Labor Men.

New York, June 29.—The first annual convention of the Socialist Trade and Labor Aliance of the United States and Canada, an organization which grew out of the Centra Labor Federation about a year ago, was called to order this morning at the Labor Lyceum in East Fourth street. The business for the convention will be "the furtherance of the new trade unionism," which means that every union man must be a socialist, and incidentally the destruction of the American Federation of Labor and the Knights of Labor. A strong effort will be made to have the headquarters of the new national organization in New York, so that the New York socialist leaders may control the machinery and funds.

Another Nail Mill Shut Down.

Bradock, Pa., June 29.—The Braddock wire works were closed down by the wire nail trust Saturday night and will not resume operations until August or September. Between 800 and 1,000 men are thrown out. This makes the third mill to close in order that production might be curtailed sufficiently to maintain prices. When the Braddock mill resumes many men will find their jobs gone on account of the introduction of improved machinery. The old furnaces will be torn down and new ones erected.

Threaten to Destroy Havana.

Havana, June 28, via Key West, Fla., June 29.—The revolutionists have served notice formally on the people of Havana that plans have been completed and will be carried into execution this summer to wipe out every vestige of the city by means of dynamite, if it be necessary to go to that extreme to deprive Spain of the island. Copies of the circular conveying this announcement have been left at the houses of all the well-to-do people of the city.

Congressman Hartman's Scheme.

Butte, Mont., June 29.—Congressman Hartman urges a scheme to keep the Republican silver men in the party by voting for instructed electors. Thomas G. Merrill, treasurer of the American Bimetallic Union, denounces the plan as the purest guarantee of the election of a gold president in the House of Representatives.

France to Admit Corn Free.

Paris, June 29.—M. Meline, the Premier, speaking at Soissons on the disturbance of the world's markets by the monetary crisis, announced that measures would shortly be taken for the temporary admission into France of corn.

SAILBOAT CAPSIZES AT OCONTO, WIS.

SIX OF A YACHTING PARTY DROWNED.

Caught in a Gale on Lake Shawano, Three Persons Rescued After Being in the Water More Than Five Hours—Bodies Not Yet Recovered—Sad Accident.

Oconto, Wis., June 29.—Word was received here Sunday of the drowning of six persons in Shawano lake during a gale which occurred at 6:50 Saturday evening. The dead:

CROWE, MARGARET, St. Nazienz, Manitowoc county, Wis.

DRACKERY, MRS. HERMAN, Pulcino, Wis.

GOKEY, LOUIS, Pulciver, Wis.

GOKEY, MRS. LOUIS, Pulciver, Wis.

GARBRECHT, MISS EMMA, Shawa-Wis.

RISUM MRS. O. A., Pulciver, Wis.

The following, who were in the boat, were rescued after having been in the water five hours:

Drackery, Herman.

Drackery, child of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Drackery.

Risum, O. A.

The party was on its way to the north shore of the lake for a few days' outing and left Cecil, on the southern shore, at 5 o'clock in the evening in the sailing yacht of O. A. Risum. Mr. Risum himself was at the helm in charge of the boat and nearly all of the members of the party were experienced sailors. For an hour the trip was as pleasant as a sailing trip might be. The breeze was brisk,but not strong enough to be termed a gale, and the Scud, as Mr. Risum's yacht had been named, was gliding through the water at an exhilarating rate of speed. All of the party were enjoying themselves hugely and were making merry over the plans for their three days' fun.

—Shortly after 6 o'clock Mr. Drackery called the attention of the party to a black cloud which was rapidly becoming more dense and which had already assumed a threatening appearance. The wind had also freshened and was blowing at a high rate of speed, but none of the party was in the least frightened and merely speculated as to whether they would be able to reach the shore before the rain fell or whether they were to get a wetting.

At 6:30 the wind came up with a rush and the sails were hauled down. Still there was no perceptible decrease in the speed of the boat. She shot along under bare poles with a tremendous velocity. The wind had by this time lashed the waves into a fury and the women on the boat were beginning to get a little worried, but the men were confident that all would come out right.

Suddenly the wind shifted and overturned the yacht before the helmsman had time to bring her about. Mr. Risum and Mr. Drackery managed to cling to the boat as it went over, but the others were thrown far away from it. Mr. Drackery made a most heroic effort to reach his wife and had almost succeeded, as he was an excellent swimmer, but he caught sight of his child almost within his grasp and returned with it to the boat. When he again attempted to reach his wife she had gone under the water for the last time. Miss Crowe, who was a fair swimmer, succeeded, with some assistance from the two men, in reaching the boat, and held to it for several minutes, but her strength had already been taxed to its utmost by her battle with the waves. She refused offers of what aid the two men could render her, and, suddenly, without so much as a splash, loosed her hold and sank. Louis Gokey had gone down clasped in the arms of his wife, whom he was trying to rescue.

For nearly five hours Mr. Risum and Mr. Drackery were in the water. Their strength was fast giving way when they were fortunately discovered and were rescued by men who put out from Cecil in rowboats.

The bodies of none of the drowned have been recovered, as there is a high wind on the lake, which makes it almost impossible for boats to accomplish anything. Searching parties are being organized and the work of looking for the bodies will be prosecuted as soon as the wind abates.

President Diaz Is Re-Elected.

City of Mexico, June 29.—The preliminary federal election occurred Sunday all over the republic and 16,000 electors were chosen in various electoral districts. These electors will meet in the different districts on next Sunday and vote for the president, magistrates and members of congress. There is no doubt of the election of General Diaz, whose candidacy has been welcomed in all parts of the republic.

Minister Romero Resigns His Post.

City of Mexico, June 29.—A letter is published from Matias Romero, Mexican Minister at Washington, resigning his post on account of an article published in an official journal during the pendency of the Guatemalan question, and which Minister Romero felt to be severe in its judgment of his views regarding the proper settlement of that question.

Thunderer Advises Laurier.

London, June 29.—In an article on the recent Canadian elections the Times considers the immediate introduction of free trade in Canada as outside the range of practical politics. "Mr. Laurier will do much," the Times adds, "if he is able by cautious and tentative beginnings to prepare the public mind for a fiscal change."

SILVER MEN PLAN FOR THE BATTLE

TO HOLD A CONFERENCE AT CHICAGO TOMORROW.

Representatives of the Democratic Bimetalic Organization Will Assemble to Complete Arrangements For Carrying on the Fight at the Democratic National Convention July 10.

Washington, June 29.—Senator Harris left yesterday for Chicago to be present at the Democratic silver conference, which will be held in that city, beginning on Tuesday, under the auspices of the Democratic bimetallic organization. He is chairman of this organization, and has been since it was instituted in this city, a year ago.

Speaking of the purpose of the conference Senator Harris said it had been called in order to afford the silver Democrats an opportunity to compare views and look the ground over preparatory to the national convention, and that it would probably continue daily until the beginning of the convention. He also said that the meeting would not be confined to members of the Democratic organization, but that there would be representatives present from every state delegation friendly to silver.

Further than this the senator declined to commit himself as to the purpose of the meeting, but it is learned from an authoritative source that the silver Democrats regard this conference as a very important affair.

The organization, under whose auspices the meeting is called, has been laboring in season and out for the promotion of the silver cause within the Democratic ranks. They have had their headquarters at Senator Harris' house, and from that quarter have conducted a correspondence with chosen representatives in all parts of the country to whom have been intrusted the organization of the silver forces, not only in every state, but in every county in every state in the union where it was considered possible to effect the lodgment of a silver idea. The movement grew out of the meeting held at the Metropolitan hotel in this city last summer at which the plans were prepared and an executive committee, consisting of one member from each state, was appointed. The work has been quietly but very thoroughly performed.

The purpose of the ante-convention meeting is to so solidify the silver organization as to render it thoroughly effective in the execution of the plans of the silver leaders in the convention, and also to prevent the encroachment of the gold forces. It had been their purpose to discuss the platform to be adopted and also to consider the availability of candidates. There has been much correspondence bearing upon these two points. The plan has been to keep candidates in the background until the conference could be held, with the view of having the conference free to choose. This has proved impracticable, and it is understood that the leaders in the movement fear that they will be unable to control in this matter as they had at one time hoped they might. They still hope, however, to be practically able to make the platform before the convention meets.

TO PACIFY CRETANS.

Christian Is Appointed Governor of the Revolting Island.

Constantinople, June 29.—Georgi Berovitch, Prince of Samos, has been appointed governor of Crete, in succession to the Mussulman governor, Abdullah Pasha. The island of Samos is autonomous, although it pays a tribute to the Turkish government, and Prince Georgi Berovitch is a Christian.

The recall of the former Christian governor of Crete, Caratheodary Pasha, and the appointment, in his stead, of the Mussulman, Abdullah Pasha, who was implicated in the Armenian troubles, fanned into flame the smoldering discontent of the Cretan Christians and resulted in the disorders which have prevailed for several months in the island. The appointment of the Prince of Samos seems designed to conciliate Greece, which has manifested sympathy with the discontent of the Cretans under Turkish rule.

London, June 29.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Canea, Island of Crete, which says that Georgi Berovitch is a Christian Albanian and that his appointment is an excellent one.

Ovation for Senator Teller.

Denver, Col., June 29. Preparations for the ovation to be given Senator Teller upon his return to Denver next Wednesday night are about completed, and it is claimed it will be the greatest demonstration ever seen in the city. The enthusiasm for the silver leader is felt in all parts of the state, and excursion trains will bring thousands from towns within 200 miles in all directions. Mr. Teller will arrive here at 8 o'clock by special train from Cheyenne over the Union Pacific. A parade of military and civic societies will be given, after which there will be an out-of-door reception near the state capitol.

Ambassador Eustis Arrives.

New York, June 29.—Ambassador Eustis arrived here last night on the St. Paul from Paris to spend his vacation of 16 days in Louisiana.

STAND BY M'KINLEY.

Walk-Out at St. Louis Is Not Indorsed Generally in the West.

Chicago, June 29.—The Tribune publishes the following special correspondence from Salt Lake City:

"The silver walk-out at St. Louis has not created the unbounded delight in the inter-mountain country that the bolters expected. So ardent have been the expressions of free coinage sentiment in recent Utah and Idaho Republican conventions that the delegates from those states who revolted at St. Louis no doubt relied upon the unanimous indorsement of their fellow-Republicans in these states, but their expectations of such strong approval will not be realized.

"Already it is doubtful if a majority of Utah and Idaho Republicans approve the bolt.

"The manifestation of McKinley sentiment in the inter-mountain region during the last week is regarded by politicians as little less than phenomenal. The financial plank of the national platform it was thought would alienate so many Republicans that the party would overwhelmingly decide not to put McKinley and Hobart electors in the field. W. J. McConnell, the governor of Idaho, stands with Senator Shoup of that state, in support of McKinley and Hobart."

Railway Employs Meet.

Seymour, Ind., June 29.—Five states were represented here Sunday afternoon by the members of the five great orders of railway employes in a mass meeting of the trainmen of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern system. Citizens, business men and women of Seymour were present in large numbers. Speeches in the interest of federation, the object of the meeting, were made by Grand Chief W. B. Powell of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, T. R. Dodge, grand master of the Order of Railway Trainmen, and Edward E. Clark, grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors. Letters of regret were read from several other chief officials. The meeting was earnest and enthusiastic, and the visiting trainmen made a good impression. At night a secret meeting of all the orders was held to further the cause of a general federation.

Notice of Irish Race Convention.

New York, June 29.—The Irish National Federation of America has issued to its branches in this country a notice of the Irish race convention to be held in Dublin on Sept. 2. The convention is called by the council of the federation in Ireland and the chairman of the Irish party. Its object as set forth in the call is to reconstitute a united home rule party and to satisfy the yearning of the Irish race all over the world for a thorough reunion of the political forces of Ireland. Each branch of the federation in America is entitled to one delegate to the convention.

Probably Murdered by Tramps.

Oaks, N. D., June 29.—John A. Brown, a prosperous bachelor farmer, was found dead in bed last evening, with a hole in the forehead and a shotgun lying across his folded arms. He had been dead probably two days. He was undoubtedly murdered, but nothing in the house was disturbed, and there was money in the pockets of the dead man's trousers. Suspicion points strongly to two tramps, 18 or 20 years old, who were seen in that vicinity Friday, but who have since disappeared.

Denmark Will Sell Its Islands.

London, June 29.—A dispatch from Copenhagen to the Times says: "The allusion in the platform of the St. Louis Republican convention to the expediency of the United States purchasing the Danish West Indies created some sensation here. It is believed that St. Thomas is especially coveted, as being likely to afford an excellent American naval station. The opinion prevails that Denmark is quite prepared to sell these small colonies at a suitable price."

Year's Production of Minerals.

Washington, June 29.—The mineral products of the United States for the calendar year 1895 are reviewed at length in the mineral resources report of the United States Geological Survey. The report, which was compiled by Dr. David T. Day, Chief of Division, shows the total value of the products as $611,795,290. This stands against a product valuation of $527,368,594 for 1894, an increase of $80,000,000.

Kansas Republicans.

Topeka, Kan., June 29.—Including the eight nominations made Saturday thirty republican candidates for state senator and members of the house have been chosen. Ex-Senator Ingalls' friends say he has over twenty of these, and that one-half of them are instructed for him for United States senator. Two hundred and sixty-five delegates have been chosen for the republican state nominating convention, and a majority of these are favorable to the renomination of Governor Morrill.

Bloodhounds Follow an Assassin.

Lawrenceville, Ill., June 29.—Excitement is at a high pitch over the murder of William Milligan of Lukin in his dooryard, Saturday morning. John Cunningham and George Hazleton of the neighborhood were brought to Lawrenceville jail Sunday on suspicion. Bloodhounds traced for four miles the trail of another man, and officers are in hot pursuit of him. He is thought to be the real guilty party and supposed to live in Indiana.

CREAM CITY TEAM IS "SHAKEN UP,,

BASE BALL TEAM IS CHANGED ABOUT.

Larry Twitchell Gives Up the Management and Robert Glencoe, of Detroit, Succeeds Him—Christopher Piper, a Prominent and Aged Princeton Man, Commits Suicide.

Milwaukee, June 29—[Special]—The expected "shake up" in the Milwaukee base ball club, came today. Larry Twitchell resigned as manager, and Robert Glencloe, formerly manager of the Detroit team, has been signed to play second base and handle the team. Taylor goes to short. Twitchell will be retained, but not as manager.

An Old Man's Suicide.

Princeton, Wis., June 29—[Special] Christopher Piper, a prominent old resident here, suicided last night by shooting himself through the head, in his bed room. He was seventy-eight years old, and leaves a family.

TROUBLE MAY ARISE.

Tension Between Britain and the United States Increasing.

London, June 29.—It is announced on the very highest authority that the British government views the present state of the Venezuelan question with the gravest apprehension. So far the diplomatic negotiations with the United States government have proceeded without positive rapture, but since Harrison's arrest the tension has increased rather than relaxed, despite the apparent friendliness of Venezuela's subsequent action.

A prominent member of the cabinet said in the course of a conversation: "Those who think no cause for disagreement exists between this country and the United States live in a fool's paradise." Important conferences have been held lately by the officials of the admiralty and war departments and members of the cabinet.

Will Close Mines Until November.

Shelburn, Ind., June 29.—C. C. Heisen of Chicago, owner of the Shelburn mines, was here Sunday for the purpose of adjusting the difference which exists between the miners and the company. Several propositions were made by Heisen to the miners to resume work at the 50-cent basis, or form a co-operative system, or he would turn the mine over to the miners if they would pay 7 per cent. on the investment. All three of the propositions were rejected. Mr. Heisen said the mine would remain idle until November, as the market would not justify his resuming operations.

Big Copper Interests Transferred.

Tucson, Ariz., June 29.—The sale of the Rosemont copper mine has been effected to-day to Lewissohn Bros., of New York, owners of the Old Dominion mine at Globe. Four of the largest copper operating firms in the world are now interested in this vicinity. The others are the Westinghouse company at Crittenden; the Anaconda, holding the Hughes mine, near Rosemont, under bond, and Phelps, Dodge & Co., operating the Mineral Hill group under bond.

Says Kansas Is for Bland.

Hutchinson, Kan., June 29.—Major James McKinstry of this city, who is one of the delegates-at-large from Kansas to the democratic national convention, just before leaving here for Chicago, predicted that Senator Teller would have very little strength in the convention. He said he could not be nominated. Major McKinstry is for Richard P. Bland and says the Kansas delegation will probably vote for him.

Saved by His Victim's Father.

St. Paul, Minn., June 29.—Burt Hillman, the man who assaulted and robbed the 11-year-od son of Sheriff Jensvold at Granite Falls, Minn., Friday, was brought here Sunday to prevent a lynching. He narowly escaped being lynched Friday, his life being saved only by the prompt action of the sheriff. It is now thought the boy will die and the sheriff has left town with the prisoner.

Great Seminary for Dubuque, Iowa.

Dubuque, Iowa, June 29.—The annual retreat of the Catholic clergy of Dubuque diocese closed Friday night. About 150 priests attended. In his address Archbishop Hennessey announced he had decided to locate in Dubuque a provincial seminary for the education of priests for this archdiocese and the suffragan sees of Davenport, Cheyenne, and Omaha. It will require two years to build.

Cameron's Re-Election Urged.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29.—R. E. Diffenderfer, executive committeeman for the Pennsylvania National Silver party, has addressed a circular to "the friends of silver in Pennsylvania." This circular, among other things, urges upon the people of Pennsylvania the necessity of re-electing J. Donald Cameron United States senator.

Big Pittsburg Plant Closed.

Pittsburg, June 29.—Jones & Laughlin's big plant closed down Friday night and will be idle until after the wage scale is settled. The firm belongs to the steel pool.

A PAGE OF LOCAL CHURCH NEWS.

THE Salvation Army had to turn people away from the First M. E. church last night, so great was the crowd that attended the service. There was no evening services at the Baptist or Congregational churches, which tended to swell the attendance at the army's meeting.

At the Court Street M. E. church, Rev. Dr. Halsey delivered the first of a series of sermons on prayer, which will be continued.

Rev. V. E. Southworth's sermon at All Souls was the last service before the summer vacation.

Rev. Henry Wilson spoke at the Congregational church and pleased his audience immensely.

The various sermons are summarized as follows:

AT THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

ev. Henry Wilson Preaches On Unseen Forces—Other Notes.

Rev. Henry Wilson preached a strong sermon from the Congregational pulpit yesterday morning on the subject of "Unseen Forces."

"In early childhood," he said, "we discover that we are creatures of two worlds. We are keenly interested in the favors, colors and movements of the physical world, but more curious in regard to the unseen universe. Our mouth in childhood is full of questions concerning the unseen. The experience of a single day will indicate the large place the unseen has in our lives. If we cultivate the soil we are co-operating with unseen vital forces. If we purchase land we might depend upon the compass, though we know little about the magnetic forces that keep the needle trembling to the north. The least shadow of turning would bring confusion to land titles. If we engage in business we must deal with persons who have never seen and use the telegraph and telephone. If we take up the daily newspapers we learn of some new discovery that pushes further back the line that divides the known from the unknown.

Must Act Now.

"If we stop to think, the unseen world rushes in upon the soul and we are dissatisfied and resolve to live better. The nature of the present is transient. Everything is practically either past or future. The word is no sooner spoken than it is a thing of the past. A thought is no sooner conceived than it is also a thing of the past. We desire great things for the future, but are satisfied with but too little in the present. Our heaven is often in our imagination rather than in the memory. Ultimately the soul must rest upon something more substantial than visions and opportunities unimproved. Unless the record of our lives shows something done for God and humanity we shall be poor in the upper sanctuary.

"Only God can speak in the home made sacred by sorrow. Now the things seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eteral. God speaks to us through the conscience. Duty is the meeting place between the soul and the Maker. When we do wrong we are fearful. The peoples of the earth come from the east and the west and meet in the valleys of the Ohio and the Mississippi to solve the problem of brotherhood and build the final home.

Mysteries Do Not Limit.

"The special material blessings of our day come from the contact of the scientific with with unseen things. The limitations of the human mind in the apprehension of the meaning of ultimate principles, does not hinder practical results. The mysteries that gather around the acts of prayer and worship do not hinder the moral and spiritual blessings that come from religion. Science in contact with unseen things brings material good. Religion in contact with the unseen, brings moral and spiritual development. When men cease to worship, the arts and sciences decay.

"The difference between science and religion is that scienee deals with things, while faith has to do with persons.

"Only a few minds in any generation can satify the instincts of the soul for the unseen by scientific investigation. The great majority of mankind seek fellowship with unseen persons. Our child in playing with the doll, will consider it as a person. Speak to the boy or girl about relatives and friends they have never seen, and the children will have an interest in their coming, and be influenced by the conceptions they have of these unseen persons. The pictures of Washington, Lincoln or Garfield on the walls of the home may have a greater influence in shaping the character of the boy, than the contact of family life. Hero worship has been used by God in all ages to lift mankind out of moral and social evil.

"We must reason from the known to the unknown. We obtain our conceptions of God from the forces of nature, the governments of men, or the character of father or mother in the home. The child can understand the meaning of the divine Fatherhood, through the knowledge of the human father. Here is one reason for the incarnation of Christ. The highest revelation of God comes through humanity. He that seeth Me, says Christ, seeth the Father. By means of the power of the soul to come into fellowship with unseen persons, the soul may come into fellowship with Chrish and through Christ into fellowship with God.

Christ The Ideal.

"Christ has become the ideal of humanity. We take realistic views of all other teachers that have appeared in history. We see the limitations of the time and the part each has played in the progress of the world. Christ still leads the thought and hope of mankind, and is God's answer to the deepest longings and highest aspirations of the soul. Christ comes into the mind without our consent, for the power of the living Christ is seen on every hand. Christ comes into the imagination without our consent, for he is the fairest among ten thousand. Christ comes into the conscience without our consent, because he is the standard of what we ought to be and do. But Christ stands at the door of the heart and knocks, and to open the door to him is the divine test of virtue. It is estimated that every day in the year three thousand persons open the door wide to admit the Christ. Millions look to Him constantly, and receive the comfort, rest, and power.

Edison an Example.

"The discoveries of Edison illustrate the wonderful power of the soul to come into fellowship with unseen persons. His inventions reproduce human speech and actions. The great and the good will be seen and heard by the coming generations. The soul, however, is greater than the mind. During the christian centuries men and women have endured as serving the invisable. Moral transformation has come into the world because men, beholding as in a glance the glory of God have been changed into the same image, even from glory to glory. The only possible mistake we can make is to underestimate this Christ. Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive the things which God hath prepared for those who love Him. Believing we rejoice with God unspeakable and full of glory."

Dr. W. F. Hoyt a former member of the choir, assisted in the musical service taking the place in the quartette of H. C. Buell who is absent from the city.

The usual service Thursday evening, subject: "Christ and the Church in the Purpose of God," Eph. 1. Next Sunday the service will be conducted by the evangelistic quartette assisted by Horace Rose, of Beloit College. Two members of the quartette, Messrs. Williams and Olds, were formerly connected with the Cheney Quartette, which is well known in this city.

WHAT WAS HEARD AT ALL SOULS

Rev. V. E. Southworth Tells What He Knows About God.

At All Souls the Peoples' Church, a large audience listened to Rev. Southworth's lecture on "What I Know About God." The speaker pronounced himself to be an Idealistic Pantheist and quoted freely from the New Testament and Modern Poets and Philosophers to show how largely the Pantheistic tone has pervaded the thought of the wisest and best men of all ages. Among other things the speaker said:

I find that all—or almost all—of our great modern poets had this conception of God as an Infinite Nearness whose indwelling Presence is the life of the world, who is the One Permanent Reality amid the ever-changing form of things.

He is the All in All of Nature, everywhere God. One and the same in the inorganic and in the organic. One and the same in the most distant star and in the blade of grass at our feet. One and the same in the mightiest planet and in the tiniest star. One and the same in herb and tree, in animal and man. One and the same in body and soul, in matter and in mind.

"Center and soul of every sphere,
Yet to each loving heart how near."

Eveaywhere If Anywhere.

If there is an Infinite God anywhere, he must be everywhere. His life must include all life. His thought and His love must embrace all thought and all love. If He is Infinite Wisdom and Goodness, then it is his wisdom and goodness which is disclosing itself in every event of nature and in our own deepest consciouesness.

The Infinite Entirety of Things is God, and there is nothing apart from Him.

This is my center of rest. From this thought I draw my inspiration. I rejoice that there is a divine energy and life abounding in every atom of this universe.

And so with utter unreserve I confide in the ultimate energies of nature. In a world that is full of God, I do not seek for one outside. With a God so close to us that I can never escape from him, why should I climb up into the heavens to drag him down?

This hankering for a Supernatural "Personality" who shall have "Miraculous" Power seems almost profane to me. The objective and extra cosmic colossus who lives outside of nature is superabundant.

I can find no crumb of comfort to feed my hungry soul in the hypothetical and metaphysical "first cause," which the theologians have seen fit to conjure up from the realm of abstractions.

Hope and Gladness.

But there is hope and gladness and a boundless enthusiasm born from the thought that "God is spirit"; that everywhere in nature the presence of this one immanent principle of life is openly manifest.

Nowhere in the universe can the most skillful investigators find a spot where the activities of this energizing Omnipotence can not be traced.

And so we rest in God, and share His life, and enjoy the consciousness of our own infinitude, undisturbed by the questions which we cannot answer.

When to the soul there comes a sense of its own inseparableness from the universe; when a man is awakened to the fact that his life and the life of all are inalienable; then religion becomes real.

Theologies and traditions and schemes of salvation seem weak and useless; for the soul finds that the Kingdom of God is the inmost fact of life.

The Three Divine Ones.

As Ernest Haeckel says: "The true, the beautiful, and the good, are the three August Divine Ones, before which we bow the knee in adoration: and in the unforced combination and mutual supplementing of these we gain the pureidea of God."

God of the granite and the rose
Soul of the sparrow and the bee,
The mighty tide of being flows
Through countless channels, Lord, from Thee

It leaps to life in grass and flowers,
Through every grade of being runs,
'Till from Creation's radiant towers,
Its glory flames in stars and suns.

O ye, who sit and gaze on life
With folded hands and fettered will,
Who only see amid the strife
The dark supremacy of ill.

Know that like birds and streams and flowers,
The life that moves you is divine;
Nor time, nor space, nor human powers
Your God-like spirit can confine.

God of the granite and the rose,
Soul of the sparrow and the bee,
The mighty tide of being flows
Through all Thy creatures back to Thee.

AT THE COURT STREET M. E. CHURCH

Dr. Halsey Gave the First of a Series of Sermons on Prayer.

A large congregation at Court Street church listened to the first of the series of the sermons on prayer. The pastor took for his text Job 21:15. He stated three reasons why he began the series of sermons by answeringpopular objections.

First, because the question of the practical utility of prayer in the struggle of life trembled on the lips of thousands of people.

Second, because the subject of prayer presented the only clearly defined issue between science and religion and as such demanded thoughtful consideration.

Third, because the objections urged had a tendency to cause the spirit of skepticism to spring up in the hearts of some people.

He then stated and answered four objections.

First, that answers to prayers as christians claim would violate the established order of things and throw the world into confusion.

Second, if prayer is any value in th struggle for life that value is to be found in its reflex influence on the man who prays.

Third, it is presumption to expect answers to prayer because of the infinite greatness of God and the insignficance of man. The divine Father is too busy with the affairs of the world to give moderate attention to the cry of a worm of the dust.

Fourth, many prayers have not been answered, or if answered the suppliant was not conscious of benefits received.

Next Sabbath morning the subject will be: "Prayer and its Specific Answers From a Christian Standpoint."

THE ARMY AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Salvation Soldiers Conducted the Morning Service--Other Notes

The Salvation Army had entire charge of the morning service at the Baptist church, giving an interesting and touching account of their slum and rescue work. A large audience paid close attention through the entire service. There was no evening service owing to the illness of the pastor.

The Young People's meeting, preceded by a fifteen-minute song service, was led by Miss Beers. "True Manliness and Womanliness" was the subject. Nearly twenty members of the society are planning to attend the Baptist young people's convention in Milwaukee, July 16 to 19.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. will be held Thursday evening, at the close of the prayer meeting. Written reports are due from all standing committees.

The Ladies' Aid society will mret for work in the church parlors, Friday.

AT THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Rev. R. K. Manaton Preached in the Morning--Other Notes

In the morning the pastor, Rev. R. K. Manaton chose for his subject "The Great Teacher's Qualifications for His Work in His Third Manifestation." His text was Isaiah 61:5.

The evening service was conducted by the Salvation Army.

The Epworth League service was led by Mr. Robinson, a Y. M. C. A. worker. He took as his subject 'Opportunities," which he handled in a very interesting manner.

The Ladies' Aid society will hold their regular meeting in the church parlors Tuesdry afternoon.

Regular prayer meeting service Thursday evening.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

Pretty Girls

are nature's fairest flowers. Some are born with good features, have a good figure, but it takes stylish clothes to complete the effect. We are showing beautiful creations in Fancy Collars, Silk Waists, Shirt Waists...

Just the kind that will make pretty girls more bewitching and add very much to the attractiveness of plain young ladies. We show distinct novelties and would call attention to the marked reduction in prices.

Light Summer Dress Fabrics

Are much lower in price now and we are showing many desirable things including a large line of plain and fancy linen stuffs.

Are You Going to Buffalo

Or some other place? Is your time well taken up? Would you take a short trip or a long one if you had a traveling suit all ready to don? We can help you. Our ready-to-wear Skirts are just the thing and they are lower in price now.

Such well shaped, nobby Shirt Waists as ours solve the waist question; and for a light Wrap at only a fraction of their former cost, here's the place to come.

Muslin Underwear

forms an important part of a woman's summer wardrobe. The kind we sell makes friends. We have built up a large trade on Muslin Underwear by handling only well made garments.

In addition to the articles mentioned above, we have all the accessories necessary to complete a woman's summer outfit—Belts, Hose, Fans, Ties, Mitts, Gloves, Parasols, Veils, Linen Cuffs, Linen Collars, Underwear, Waist Sets, Fancy Pins, &c.

Votes Come In Thicker As the End of The Voting Period Draws Near—Conditions Plainly Stated For the Benefit of Contestants—Coupons In Demand.

Bunches of coupons are coming in hourly for Christian Endeavor candidates. The coupons for each candidate are kept separate, and it looks as if corn cribs might be necessary to store them in before clocks strike 9 on July 1. People who have saved coupons may hand them at this office whenever they wish, and credit will be given to the candidate named. As for subscriptions, they should be reported, of course, as fast as secured, so that h paper may be started at once. The conditions of the vote should be borne in mind. They are:

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote.

Cut out the coupon (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and send to Ballot Editor, Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

None but members of the Janesville Christian Endeavor societies are eligible as candidates. The winner will have railroad and Pullman fare paid from Janesville to Washington and will have hotel expenses paid throughout the convention.

Votes may be sent in at any time. The polls close July 1 at 9 o'clock p. m.

The votes allowed on new subscriptions paid in advance will be:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

New subscriber to Weekly Gazette, paid for one year, $1.50; four hundred votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day, and vote in the regular manner.

No person shall be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address. In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers. No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday, start it again Tuesday and claim the premium.

HOT RACE AT CHICAGO TOMORROW

John Kelly Will Drive for The "Horse Review Stake."

John Kelly will take part in what promises to be one of the hardest fought trotting races of the year at Chicago tomorrow. It is the event for two-year-old colts, called the "Horse Review stake." The colt that wins will get $2,500, and the driver of the winner will get $1,200 in cash. The best two-year-olds in the country will contest, and the best drivers in the United States will guide them. All are willing to win $2,500 for their employers, and $1,200 for themselves, so that the fight will be for blood. Kelly has two colts entered—Directum Kelly and Miss Beatrice, both by Direct. He has decided to start Miss Beatrice, and she is said to be faster than any two year old whirl wind that ever whirlled. She is a full sister to Miss Kate, and is said to be one of the handsomest horses in America.

Kentucky Queen was Mr. Kelly's nomination in the colt race at Chicago this afternoon, today being the opening day of the Washington Park meeting.

RIDGE APP ROACH STRENGTHENED

Iron Structure Near the Ice House Is Repaired With Piles

The first repairs that the large iron railroad bridge, that spans the river near the ice houses, has needed in a long time, were made last week. At the west approach of the bridge the foundation, which has stood the test of years, was found to need strengthening and numerous piles were used in the work.

Work upon the new bridge at Monterey is progressing rapidly, and the present structure will soon be removed.

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, no desire for food, bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, wind in stomach and bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness, weariness, costiveness, headache, palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "tonics," "blood purifiers," "cathartics," "pills," because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else.

All these symptoms rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr. Harlandson, Dr. Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour, which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequaled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion. It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

BIG AND GOOD.

BattleAx PLUG

A GREAT BIG PIECE FOR 10 CENTS

Sometimes quality is sacrificed in the effort to give big quantity for little money.
No doubt about that.
But once in a while it isn't.
For instance, there's "BATTLE AX."
The piece is bigger than you ever saw before for 5 cents. And the quality is, as many a man has said, "mighty good."
There's no guess work in this statement.
It is just a plain fact.
You can prove it by investing 5 cents in "BATTLE AX."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1847—Emanuel Marquis Grouch, marshal of France under Napoleon, died; born 1766.

1852—Henry Clay, American statesman, died at Washington; born 1777. Clay was born in Virginia and emigrated to Kentucky after his admittance to the bar. He was then 20 years old. When Kentucky formed her state constitution, Clay advocated the gradual abolition of slavery. One of his greatest speeches in congress, where he served 13 years, favored the recognition of the South American republics.

1880—The steamer Seawanhaka, carrying 300 passengers, burned off College Point, N. Y., with the loss of 50 lives.

1888—Francis Henry Temple Bellew, the artist, died; born 1827. General Washington L. Elliott died in San Francisco; born 1821.

1895—Ex-President Peixoto of Brazil died near Rio Janeiro; born 1839. Daniel Cady Eaton, noted botanist of Yale, died in New Haven; born 1834. Green Clay Smith, a Union veteran, died at Washington; born 1827.

Assembly District Convention.

The Republican Second Assembly District convention of Rock county is hereby called to meet at the court house, in the city of Janesville, on Wednesday, July 29, 1896, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing eight (8) delegates to represent the district in the Republican State convention, to be held in the city of Milwaukee, August 5, 1896, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. The different towns, villages and cities of the district are entitled to delegates as follows: Bradford, Harmony, Johnstown, two each; Center, Lima, Magnolia, Porter, Union, three each; Fulton, city of Edgerton, four each; village of Evansville six; Milton, eight.

W. W. CLARKE,
Special Committee.

Milton, Wis., June 25, 1896.

Republican State Convention.

TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF WISCONSIN:—By direction of the state central committee, a convention of the republican electors of the state of Wisconsin will be held in the city of Milwaukee, on Wednesday, the 5th day of August, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating a republican state ticket to be voted for at the general election in November next, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. Rock county is entitled to the following delegates:

First Assembly District........................ 6
Second Assembly District...................... 8
Third Assembly District........................ 9

EDWIN D. COE, Chairman.
JOHN M. EWING, Secretary.

MR. COOPER AND CHURCH AID.

Congressman Cooper has attracted much attention during the last term by his stand against the appropriation of funds for sectarian purposes. He pointed out that four churches no longer accepted government aid for their Indian schools, and that the efficiency of the schools was in nowise diminished.

"But even if the statement be true," he said, "that church schools would languish and die except for government aid, that furnishes no argument whatever why we should make this appropriation. We have no right to do good to an Indian child by outraging the plain rights of a white man. The Virginia statute of religious freedom was drawn by Thomas Jefferson, and he was prouder of it than of anything else he ever wrote except the Declaration of Independence. It received the sanction of James Madison and his warm approbation in a letter which he wrote after its enactment.

"Here is a clause in that statute of religious freedom:

That to compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propogation of opinions which he disbelieves is sinful and tyrannical.

"Have you a right to take the money of Catholics or of Presbyterians or of Methodists to educate Indian children in infidelity or to teach them the Jewish faith? No; nor have you the right to take the money of Jews or of infidels or of Protestants generally, to teach Indian children the Catholic faith, because, in the language of Thomas Jefferson, when you take the money of any man for the purpose of propagating religious opinions which he disbelieves, you commit an act which is sinful and tyrannical." [Applause.]

In the course of another speech, June 6, Mr. Cooper said: "Mr. Speaker: I desire to say only a few words in reply to the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. Fitzgerald.) He has said that during the present session of congress this house has voted appropriations to institutions purely sectarian. I am greatly misinformed, Mr. Speaker, if that be a true statement. I do not know that this house has voted appropriations to any secterian institution at the present session. My vote has not been cast for any such appropriation, and it never will be.

"The gentleman says that we attack the Catholic religion. I deny it. No such proposition has been made here; nor any proposition that in any proper sense could be construed as an attack upon the Catholic religion or upon any other religion. What we do demur to is the proposition of the gentleman from Massachusetts (who announced himself the other day and today as a Catholic) that he shall take the public money to teach his religion to Indians. I deny that he has a right to vote one penny of my money—and I have an equal undivided share with every other citizen of the republic in the public money—to teach Catholicism to a Comanche or Methodism to a Modoc. [Laughter and applause.]

It is no part of the functions of the government of the United States to teach an Indian that the pope is infallible, to teach him that or any other purely religious tenet."

Mr. Cooper declared that no church schools would be closed because of the withdrawal of government support.

"The government can have schools put up in very short time, if necessary," he said, "but I do not think that it is at all necessary. The Catholic church will support its own schools; it will support its own schools without public money; it will support them just as the Congregationalists, the Baptists, the Methodists, the Lutherans, the Presbyterians, and all the other denominations support the schools in which they teach the Indians—that is, by means of the voluntary contributions of their respective communicants."

Mr. Cooper denied that he spoke as an A. P. A. and said he was not nor had he ever been a member. He spoke simply as an American citizen who thought that upon such propositions there was no room for compromise. Congress had no right to compromise questions of conscience nor to make any citizen pay to teach a religion in which he did not believe.

Mr. Cooper spoke earnestly but temperately. Washington papers say the defeat of the compromise report by a vote of 65 to 58 was due in very large measure to his efforts.

Senator Teller is all right. If a law were proposed making every leaf of Wisconsin tobacco legal tender for $1, the Wisconsin senator who voted against would be tarred and feathered the minute he got inside the state line.

C. A. LIBBY IN TROUBLE IN CHICAGO

Charged with Selling Railroad Tickets That Were Not Good.

C. A. Libby, proprietor of the Evansville Enterprise and Tribune, is in trouble in Chicago. The Tribune says: "Warrants were served on C. A. Libby, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. He is the editor of two papers at Evansville, Wis., and the proprietor of a grocery on North Clark street, and the complaint against him is made by Ward Stockton, a ticket broker, No. 219 Dearborn street. Stockton says Libby agreed to get him some railroad tickets at half rates, on account of his editorial position, and he gave the editor $39 75 for the tickets, which he sold to a customer. The tickets were not accepted on the train, and Libby refused to return the money to Stockton."

BIG CAR KNOCKED THE SHED OUT

Janesville Coal Company's Building Damaged By a Wide Caboose

When Manager Nuesses of the Janesville Coal Company visited the West Milwaukee street establishment this morning, he was surprised to find a goodly portion of the big shed missing. While switching cars in the yards yesterday an extra wide caboose was "thrown in" on the side track. It caught the end of the shed, tearing it away as though it had been paper.

HIELD HAD TO WIN FIVE HEATS

Janesville Horse Had To Beat The Stand at Woodstock.

The Janesville horses arrived home last evening from Woodstock, where they captured more than their share of the purse money. In Saturday's race Sanky Tanky, with Joe Hield behind him, had to win five heats to get the money. He won the first heat, and was "set back." Then he won the second and third heats; was set in the fourth, and won the fifth with so long a lead that the judges didn't dare disqualify him. The best time was 2:33½.

Massasoit, F. L. Smith's horse, started in the 2:25 class and got third money.

Reduced Rates to Washington.

The Young People's Society of Christian En deavor will hold their annual meeting in Washington, D. C., July 7 to 13.

For this occasion the B. & O. R. R. Co. will sell tickets from all points on its lines, west of the Ohio river to Washington, at one single fare for the round trip, July 4 to 7, inclusive; valid for return passage until July 15, inclusive, with the privilege of an additional extension until July 31 by depositing tickets with Joint Agent at Washington.

Tickets will be sale at stations of all connecting lines.

Delegates should not lose sight of the fact that all B. & O. trains run via Washington.

Mere Nothing.

Judge Gary has a dry wit with him that is occasionally the cause of his grim courtroom being pervaded by a very audible tittering.

The other day one of the attorneys was airing his indignation. He had been robbed. Yes, sir, robbed. It was shameful the way things went right there under the eyes of the law.

Finally Judge Gary noticed the fuming and fretting one.

"What's the matter now?" he asked.

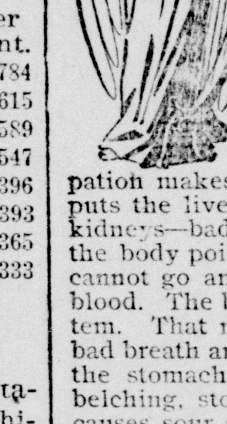
"Matter? It's a compound outrage. Had my overcoat stolen right from this room."

The judge smiled a little.

"Overcoat, eh?" he said. "Pah, that's nothing! Whole suits are lost here every day."—Green Bag.

Notice.

Owing to ill health I hereby offer for sale my saloon, stock and fixtures, located at 27 North Main street. A good chance for the right person. William Fathers.



When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

FRANCHISE SUITS POSTAL COMPANY

SENT THEIR ACCEPTANCE OF THE SAME TODAY.

Agreement Took Effect Upon Their Acceptance. So It Is Now In Force—School and Bicycle Ordinances to Come Before the Aldermen Tonight—Other Notes.

The Postal Telegraph Cable Company has accepted the franchise granted at the last meeting of the common council, and the same is now in force, the franchise reading that it should become operative as soon as accepted by the company. City Clerk Badger received a letter from the company this morning, accepting the franchise, but the document did not state when the work of building the line would be begun. The council will probably be notified of the company's acceptance at tonight's meeting.

Several matters of importance will come up before the aldermen tonight. Ald. McKey's "bicycle ordinance," which was introduced at the last meeting and laid over under the rules, will come up.

There has been much discussion regarding this ordinance, both for and against the measure, and what will be done with it, remains to be seen. Nearly every city in the country had some such regulation, and many hold that one is greatly needed here. Others contend that the ordinance is unjust as it compels a "biker" to take precautions from which vehicles are free. The ordinance is a liberal one as far as the wheelmen were concerned, when compared with the regulations adopted at other places.

The ordinance providing for the raising of money for the schools, which was introduced by Alderman Stearns at the last meeting, will also come up tonight. It contemplates adopting the portion of the new law relating to tax levy, but limiting the levy to 3 per cent. of the valuation, so as to allow the raising of sufficient funds for the schools.

The Board of Review met at the city clerk's office this morning. Mayor Baines, by virtue of his office, presided, and City Clerk Badger kept the minutes. The board organized by electing Henry Hemming vice president, and then adjourned without transacting any business.

THE South End Light Weights defeated the News Boys in a hot contested game of ball on Bunker Hill Sunday afternoon by a score of 8 to 12, the battery for the Light Weights being Bliss and Minnick, while Riley, Collins and Daverkosen played the points for the News Boys. The features of the game were Casey's batting, and the fielding of Lutz and Wagner.

SALOONS TO CLOSE WHEN TIME IS UP

SEVERAL FIRMS LIKELY TO QUIT BUSINESS.

There Are Now Forty-six Places and Probably Half a Dozen Will Go Out of Business When the License Expires—Ten File Application For Renewal.

Janesville now has forty-six saloons, but the chances are that in the future there will be but forty. The saloon men are now filing their application for license with City Clerk Badger, and some of them are putting up their money. Ten have officially signified their intention of continuing in the business, and the other thirty will probably do so within a few days. The ten are: Adam Holt, Railroad hotel; Alex. McClellan, 4 South River street; Herman Kath, 58 South River street; I. F. Connors, 116 West Milwaukee street; William Bahr, corner of Milwaukee and Academy streets; James Sennett, 213 West Milwaukee street; Henry Beneke 6 South River street; James Ryan, 114 West Milwaukee street; William Hemming, 113 West Milwaukee street; Elmer F. Maine, 110 West Milwaukee street, and L. L. Leffiingwell 55 East Milwaukee street. Of this number five have deposited their $500 with the city treasurer, they being Adam Holt, Alex McLelaln, Herman Kath, I. F. Connors and William Bahr.

Several firms located down town will probably quit the business, among them being Toole & Richardson, who have already announced that they would not take out a license.

CLAIM $739 IS DUE FROM BURTON HEIRS

AN INTERESTING CASE IN THE COUNTY COURT.

Mrs. Alice Barnes, Who Cared For Burton During His Sickness Wants Pay For Her Work—Defense Holds That Her Charges Are Too High.

Is Mrs. Alice Barnes of Evansville, to receive the sum of $739.00 for nursing John Burton during the last seven months of his life?

Judge Sale will decide.

A goodly portion of the population of Evansville sat in the county court this morning and listened to the opening arguments in what promises to be a very interesting case. Both parties resided in Evansville. Mr. Burton, during the past seven months of his life, was troubled with a cancer upon his face, and engaged Mrs. Barnes to look after him. He grew gradually worse and died last August. Mrs. Barnes claims that the sum of $739 was due her from the Burton heirs, for nursing Burton, but they refused to settle, claiming that Mrs. Barnes' claim was too large. Mrs. Barnes testified this morning that she was obliged to look after Burton every ten minutes for thirty-nine days and thirty-nine nights, while Dr. Evans testified that in his opinion $7 a week was good pay for the work Mrs. Barnes did. Attorney T. C. Richmond appeared in the interest of Mrs. Barnes, while Attorney E. D. McGowan appeared for the estate.

MILLINERY AND PARASOLS.

Hats For Outing—Artificial Dahlias Easily Made—Tulle Trimming.

Sailor hats are worn as much as ever this summer. These perennial favorites are mostly very simply trimmed, a ribbon band being often considered sufficient. The more elaborate ones have a bow and several quills in addition. Alpine hats for outing wear are also seen, and some close shapes resembling the old fashioned English walking hat.

Parasols are, on the whole, less trimmed than in former years. Although many are lavishly adorned with lace, ruffles, puffings and flowers, the majority are without trimming and are of changeable, flowered, checked or striped silk.

STRAW HAT.

There has been a return to hats and bonnets of drawn tulle and mousseline de soie. These are very delicate and light and are a pretty accompaniment to dainty summer gowns. Roses are seen in great abundance, and dahlias and hydrangeas are also in evidence. The dahlia is a flower easily copied in muslin, silk or velvet—it is naturally so regular, solid and stiff—but when the fabric employed happens to be peacock blue in color, as is now sometimes the case, the eye refuses to be satisfied with the imitation. More or less tall trimming is still worn, consisting of erect feathers, quills or sprays or wired loops of gauze or tulle. Accordion plaited glace silk is used in the shape of wings, and tulle is universally employed, sometimes in two or three colors together, sometimes in one color, as veil over flowers.

Hats are coming farther and farther forward, and the trimming at the back, under the brim, is consequently becoming more massive.

An illustration is given of a pretty little hat for a very young woman. It is of coarse mixed straw in tones of iris, green and straw color. The crown, which is moderately high, is surrounded by 12 white, leafless roses, pressed flat against it. At the left side is a bow of black velvet and satin ribbon with upright loops and an erect cluster of iris flowers and foliage.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MATERIALS AND STYLES.

Silk Striped Linens—Barege and Crepe de Chine—Decollete Bodices.

Among the varieties of linen lately put out by the manufacturers are some showing fine silk stripes running lengthwise, in straw, blue, pink and similar bright colors. Others are sprinkled with flowers worked in silk or flax. Costumes of either plain or fancy linen often have a wide belt of glace or flowered taffeta.

Barege is worn largely, and there is a wide choice of styles. Among the prettiest ones are those having a warp design of printed flowers. These are made over a colored silk lining, with a girdle of the same sort of taffeta. There are also some very attractive plaids in rich colors.

Crepe de chine is to be in great favor this year. A number of gowns have been seen entirely composed of this fabric.

Black, gray and beige alpacas are well liked for useful summer toilets. They often have revers of white pique and a belt of silk or leather.

Young girls and young women wear decollete bodices over a guimpe or chemisette of embroidery, lace, linen and similar fabrics. This decolletage assumes a great variety of form. The opening may be square, round or of a fanciful form or may give a fichu effect.

The sleeve is no longer made with two balloons. The entire fullness is confined to the upper part of the arm near the shoulder, and sometimes there is no fullness at all, or the sleeve is wrinkled close to the arm. In these latter cases a wide effect at the top is obtained by bows, epaulets or plaitings falling from the shoulder.

The sketch shows a costume of pearl gray mohair. The tablier of the godet skirt is framed by two long straps, terminating in points at the foot, where they are fastened by paste buttons. The close bodice has a short, rippled basque and is cut away in front to form two straps over a vest of white silk. The revers of the vest are embroidered with pompadour flowers. Paste buttons fasten the straps at the shoulders and are placed at the corners of the basque and vest. The cravat is of white embroidered tulle. The hat worn with this gown is of yellow braided straw and is trimmed with pompadour ribbon having a white ground, parma violets and a drapery of white tulle.

No Occasion for Regret.

"Van Tupper is the last of a great family," he said, thoughtfully.

"Yes," she replied, "and how fortunate that the last member of a great family, for which we have always had a high regard, should be a man like Van Tupper!"

"I can't quite see that," he returned. "To me it seems just the reverse. Van Tupper is—"

"Oh, I know what Van Tupper is," she interrupted. "He's just the man to reconcile us to the fact that the family will become extinct." — Chicago Post.

Told Him All.

"Tell me all," he hissed.

"Very well," she answered, pale but resolute. "Six spools of silk thread, four yards of toweling, a can of concentrated lye and two yards of trimming to match this dress."

Pressing his hand to his brow he tottered from the house.—Detroit Tribune.

THE ANGELS' OVERSIGHT.

We have a little sister.
I wonder if they missed her
When she wandered out of heaven to come so far away.
How could they ever spare her?
I know she must be fairer
Than any little angel they are keeping there today.

Her eyes are blue and shining,
And her hair is soft and twining,
Just like a bit of sunshine all curled in little rings.
But, ah, who would have thought it?
(Perhaps they all forgot it.)
They let her come from heaven all the way without her wings!

—Sydney Dayve in Outlook.

ANTONIO'S MARY.

Dora England was standing in the garden, bareheaded, holding her baby in her arms. She leaned against the balustrade, and her little son kicked his feet against the pink blossoms of the passion vine running a race up the side of the house with a climbing rose that was a wonder even among the roses of Santa Barbara. Dora looked at the little feet and at the rosy flowers and then laughed, and pulling off the shoes and socks held the bare feet up by the flowers and matched pinkness. Then, being a mother, she began to fondle the little things in a most unreasonable way, and it was then that she saw Mary for the first time—saw her come through the gate and into the garden, not walking, but running—running as though that, and not walking, were the natural human gait, a girl of 17, a Mexican, dark and tall and with a tuneful voice when she began to speak.

"I am Mary, Antonio's Mary," she said, "not Maria, but Mary, just like American girls are named. I looked from the house there over to the house here, and I knew that you were the one I had come to seek. I am happy, ah, happy, if this is the little angel I am to take care of. I have so many, many little brothers and sisters, and I beg my mother to let me stay and take care of them. But my mother says, 'Mary, you are a woman now and must make money.' And so, as for me, until now it is in a laundry that I have worked. But how can one love a laundry? When Jose, the waiter in the big hotel, came to get me, I knew that you would let me come to you, for I love the baby, and when one loves one does well, is it not so?" And then, without waiting: "It is a good thing, dear lady, that you are not in the big hotel now. My mother is a careful woman—you do not know what a careful woman—and the big hotel is a bad place for a girl like me."

"A prudent mother," was what Dora thought.

Mary had taken the baby and was looking hard at the mother with big, affectionate eyes. Dora's imagination was making a picture, "She shall wear a dark gown, a large white apron and an enormous black hat, and there must be some red about her, and then on the beach with the baby, with his yellow hair, in her arms, she will be lovely."

"And so," Robert England said to the Sedgeleys next day, "the little Mexican is to become the caretaker of my son, because she has a skin like satin, a low brow and a mouthful of glistening teeth." But he did not say this to his wife. He could not have said that he understood women, but he might have said that he understood one woman. He was never a better lawyer than when he was in his own house, and that high strung little wife of his was as complex a body as 12 men ever were.

So Mary came, and Dora and her husband and the Sedgeleys watched her every morning when she sat in the sun on the sand with the baby on her lap. She would take a handful of sand, and holding it as high as she could reach she would let it slip through her fingers, and when the child laughed she would laugh, too, and clap her hands. She became a feature of the beach life of Santa Barbara. Every one watched for the coming of the tall young savage and the fair haired child. The young men from New York who are the stars in the play life that goes on in the place every winter—an existence that is no more like real life than the Santa Barbara winter is like real winter—and who are very pretty editions de luxe of the Mexican vaquero, with their broad sombreros, their silver trimmed saddles, their rawhide bridles and diabolical Mexican bits, and their spurs weighed down with silver chains—even they looked at her as they rode up and down on the beach.

"Niva and I have been looking at the most beautiful creature in Santa Barbara," said Dora as her husband and Niva's came up to her high cart.

"Now I know you are talking about Dora's fad," Robert said. "A month ago, 'the most beautiful thing' would have signified the most wonderful baby in the world, but now—the truth is, Dora enjoys being on a pedestal. Perhaps she has never been on one before, except for the short time that she occupied one of my making a great many years ago before we were married. But now she has become a sort of supernatural being in Mary's eyes. I assure you, she is father, mother and father confessor all in one. There are no bounds to her devotion. I am sure she would slay one of her small brothers without a pang if Dora ordered the sacrifice."

"An uncomfortable sort of responsibility," muttered Niva.

"Yes," Dora said, "and I hate that. I hate responsibility, and I abhor posing, and my part in this is a deadly pose."

"She is undeniably pretty," said Niva's quiet husband, "and that New York fellow, your friend Dulaney over there, seems to think so too."

"She is beautiful," insisted Dora.

"She is," muttered Niva again, "dangerously beautiful."

What Robert England said was all true. Mary gave Dora her worship, and there was jealousy in the adobe home of Mary's mother and hot battles for Mary.

"It is for the American woman and her one child that you desert your mother," stormed Carmen. "We are nothing to you now," with a sweep of her hand including half a dozen very frightened looking little rats of children. Mary was thinking all the time that she did not like scolding mothers and brothers and sisters who were unpleasant and very dirty.

"Antonio," insisted Carmen to the big Mexican, her husband, who sat smoking his pipe with great calmness, "tell the girl that she cannot leave the house; that she shall never see the American woman's face again."

"I am going now," Mary said. "I shall never leave my sweet lady until she tells me to go. She needs me. She has told me that she needs me."

"She has taught my daughter to disobey her mother. You shall not go. It is my right, the obedience of my children!" screamed Carmen.

But by this time Mary was running down the street laughing. The big Antonio went on smoking, and the neighbors came out of their houses to see Carmen and her unruly child.

"Come back!" shouted the mother.

But Mary always turned her laughing head and cried, "No, no!"

* * * * * *

"May I tell you all about it?" Mary said one morning.

"All about what?" asked Dora, and Mary cried: "Oh, the most wonderful thing has happened, the most magnificent thing. My cousin, who is a widow, mourns no longer. Her house is a fine place, as big as these two rooms. The floor of her house is not like the earth floor of the house of my father. It is a floor of boards, all smooth planks. Last night my cousin came out of her mourning. A great dance she gave to us all. If you could see our Spanish dances! We have egg shells—hollow, gilded egg shells. And, you see, we are to break the shells on the head of the one that is most dear to us. The girls are to break them on the heads of the men, and the men on the heads of the girls. And all the men have broken their shells on my head. And the American man—he, too, has covered my hair with gold. See, see!" and blushing cruelly she held down her head, which sparkled with fine gilt dust.

There were more dances, and this was not the last time that the gold glittered in the girl's hair.

"It is ominous," Dora said to her husband. "I am afraid that Mary has discovered that she is beautiful."

"What is she going to do when we go away?" asked Robert. "What is going to become of her?"

"How serious you are," laughed Dora. "I suppose she will go back to her laundry."

At the end of the season, when the Englands went north again, Dora gave Mary many pretty gifts. When she got into the train, she held the baby up for Mary to kiss and was quite frightened at the look on the girl's face.

"It seems a pity," Robert said. "A good deal might have been done with her, poor little pitiful thing!" And the train moved off, and Mary went out of the station. But she did not go back to the adobe home of Antonio and Carmen.

* * * * * *

When Mrs. England heard of it, she cried a little, and she did not look in her husband's face that day or the next day. Niva Sedgeley told her. Niva was not surprised. And in the meantime Horace Dulaney staid on at the big hotel until the hot weather drove him away.

Pay of Former Contributors.

Coleridge took at times an exaggerated view of his services to The Morning Chronicle. His surprising statement that Stuart in 1800 offered him £2,000 a year if he would devote himself to journalism, that he declined on the ground that he would not give up "the reading of old folios" for twenty times £2,000, and that he considered any pay beyond $350 as a real evil, is obviously impossible. Stuart probably tried to spur his indolent contributor by saying that his services would be worth some such sum if they could be made regular. But the statement is only worth notice here in illustration of the state of the literary market at the time. Southey acknowledges his gratitude for the guinea a week which he received as Stuart's "laureate."

Poetry, by the way, appears to have been more in demand then than at the present day. Both Perry and Stuart's elder brother offered to employ Burns, and Coleridge, Southey, Campbell and Moore all published poems in the newspapers. Lamb tried his hand at "jokes." "Sixpence a joke," he says—"and it was thought pretty high, too—was Dan Stuart's settled remuneration in these cases."

The high water mark of a journalist's earnings at the end of the last century is probably marked by the achievement of Mackintosh, who earned 10 guineas in a week. "No paper could stand it!" exclaimed the proprietor, and the bargain had to be revised. A few years later, however, we are told that Sterling, the father of Carlyle's friend, was receiving the sum which Coleridge supposed himself to have refused, namely, £2,000 a year for writing leading articles in The Times.—National Review.

New Definitions.

Inmates of the Home For Feeble Minded Children at Glen Ellen often surprise their teachers by bright questions and witty answers.

"Now, children, which one of you can tell me what grass is?" asked one of the instructors the other day. She selected one little girl from among those who waved their hands in furious attempts to gain recognition, and she promptly answered:

"Little live green streaks."

"What is a doll?" was the next question, and a little boy answered:

"It is a cry baby turned into nothing."—San Francisco Post.
